SPARKY

SPARKY is a gas torch useful for heating adhesive films, especially used where we do not have electricity and where heating speed and high temperatures are required.

The torch, characterized by excellent ergonomics, thanks to the piezoelectric ignition allows the flame to be activated immediately and safely and allows, thanks to the special valve, to regulate its intensity, therefore the calorific value.

BENDA

A high temperature silicone tape capable of limiting the heating of the nozzle of the heat gun or gas torches.

BENDA is simple to install and replace, cheap and extremely functional. Unfortunately, all wrappers have experienced what it means to burn your skin with the hotparts of the heaters.

From today, a layer of silicone, how much you can decide for yourself, will avoid accidental burns but also damage to vinyl films deriving from heating too close.

MANIAC

Car Wrapping, PPF, Windows Tint, Car Care and more, are all activities that require maximum cleanliness of the car and the environment in which you operate. There are parts of the vehicle that are not easy to clean and characterized by extremely fine and volatile impurities, which are very harmful. Tire, rim wheel, wheel hub, discs and brake calipers, probably represent the most saturated parts of impurities. A good wash can remove the soil present in the area but it cannot remove the ferodo powder, often responsible for the dirty spots we find under the films.

Do not overlook the problems deriving from the presence of polishing products ("oil black rubber") on the carcasses of the tires.
